

TUTOR.COM ACCOUNTS RULES

- Open to all AF, Army, Navy and Marine Corps active duty and family members, as well as Reservists and National Guard (Deployed) and DOD Civilians (Deployed ONLY)
- Tutor.com is the world's leading provider of online tutoring and educational support, currently serving thousands of tutoring sessions each day to patrons of public libraries in North America and worldwide to the U.S. Military. With Tutor.com, K-12 students, College Students, and Adults have access to help 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, from a live, certified, subject matter expert tutor. There are no limits to the number of times a user can connect to a tutor. All sessions take place in Tutor.com's proprietary online classroom and are anonymous and are reviewed for quality control. All subjects of Math, Science, English, and Social Studies are available. There are even special writing tutors that will proofread a piece of writing in real-time. College students and adults have access to subject matter help, as well as resume-writing help from qualified resume expert tutors, GED Prep help, and Citizenship test prep help.
- You can see Tutor.com at www.tutor.com/airforce.
- Before using, you need an account. The Library will issue you an account. We will not accept info over the phone or by email. You need to come in and fill out an application form. Otherwise there is too much confusion about spelling emails and usernames.
- Fill out the sheet and allow three working days for email receipt with account access to arrive. MAKE SURE you give us the correct email on the sheet and a username.
- IF WE CANNOT READ IT, WE CANNOT DO IT.
- Tutor.com then sends out an email to you when the account is created that will ask you to click a hyperlink which takes you to the site where you will create a password. Then you will launch your account. Just follow on screen directions from there.
